

saitn down to the river on the anniversayr (My typing is off now) of the saving of the town, November 1. We saw the procession in part last Saturday afternoon. It was a colorful one, but not quite in keeping with our ideas.

Well. I must go to glass now, so will close with lots of love, and wirts an explanation of what we saw as much as is possible, when I write again. I want to describe the things we saw in more detail.

Love and God guide us all,

Ma Ke
